Ike Plans To Take Part In '56 Campaign

Raises GOP Hopes He'll Run Again

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower's plan to take a hand in the 1956 election campaign raised Republican hopes Thursday that he will run for a second term.

Reaction of GOP leaders to the President's announcement ranged from uncertainty about the role he will play to a firm belief that he will be a candidate.

The President's message to the Republican National Committee contained this key paragraph:

"You have a splendid record to submit to the voters in 1956. I personally am proud of Republican achievements for the peace and the prosperity and security of the American people. I shall do everything in my power next year to help you report the record accurately and fully to the country."

The telegram was read by Chairman Leonard W. Hall at a meeting of the National Committee. Members rose to their feet and applauded.

The Associated Press asked committee members for their interpretation of the President's announcement that he will join in the Republican battle to keep possession of the White House and regain control of Congress.

"I think he will take an active part in the campaign for his own reelection," said Morton H. Hollingsworth, Illinois state chairman. "I think he will be a candidate."

Ralph F. Gates, Indiana's committeeman, suggested it is "too early" to say just what part the President will play. But he added: "If he continues his recovery (from a Sept. 24 heart attack), he will be the candidate."

Eisenhower in his telegram, told the party leaders, "We must not stand still." He added:

"Continued progress in the healthy expansion of our economy, even more equitable sharing of the productivity of that economy, rising levels of health, education and welfare for all, and untiring search for a just and enduring peace, must remain our goals."

The committee finished its two-day task of laying the groundwork for next year's GOP nominating convention and campaign, and it listened to a series of speeches pegged to the theme that Americans "never had it so good."

The convention, opening Aug. 20, in San Francisco's Cow Palace, will have 1,323 delegates compared with 1,206 in 1952—an increase of 117. With the same number of alternates, the total will be 2,645.

AFL-CIO Merger Nears Completion

NEW YORK (AP)—Merger of the AFL and CIO became practically an accomplished fact Thursday. The AFL voted its final unanimous approval and the CIO is due to ratify the merger Friday.

The consolidation brings together unions of the American Federation of Labor and those of the Congress of Industrial Organizations to form a single 16-million-member union group.

The new organization will be known formally as the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO).

George Meany, one-time New York plumber who heads the AFL and is due to become president of the merged AFL-CIO, pledged in a speech to AFL convention delegates that the new organization would be devoted to improving the lot of workers in the nation as a whole.

Meany said there had been no real reason for unions splitting away from the AFL to found the CIO two decades ago and now that they will be back together again organized labor could forge ahead to new economic and political gains.

The AFL-CIO merger was announced in a speech by Meany at the AFL-CIO convention in New York City.

Charge Cab Driver With Rape, Murder Of 8-Year-Old Girl

CANTON, Ill. (AP)—A 29-year-old Canton taxicab driver Thursday was charged with raping and murdering 8-year-old Janice May, whose bruised and beaten body was found among some up-ended railroad cars Saturday.

Lloyd Miller was charged in warrants issued by Justice of the Peace Allen Jackson. State's Atty. Blaine Ramsey said he will recommend that Miller be held without bond.

Miller signed a confession in Springfield early Thursday. He then was taken from Springfield, but his whereabouts have not been disclosed by authorities.

James Christensen, superintendent of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification, said Miller signed a statement relating he took the third grade pupil behind the railroad cars, molested her, and struck her when she cried and told him she would tell her mother.

Miller said the girl's head struck a concrete block when she fell. Miller related he discarded some bloody clothing some distance away, put on fresh clothing at home, and returned to work.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Clifford Flood of St. Clair County said after the questioning:

"I don't think they ought to be that tough on him," she said. Miller answered. Later in the drive, she said, Miller told her, "You know I did it to that little girl, but they won't take me in because I got rid of it." By "it," authorities said, he apparently referred to his bloody clothing.

Mrs. Baldwin said Miller warned her: "If you tell anybody what I've said you'll get the same thing she got."

Christensen said Miller's former wife and a child reside in Dalton, Ga.

It was reported that Mrs. Betty Baldwin, 24, a waitress and woman friend of Miller, gave authorities the tip that resulted in his capture.

Canton Police Chief Kenneth Lindsey said Mrs. Baldwin, a divorcee and mother of four children, told him she knew Miller had killed the girl but was afraid to give authorities full details earlier.

Lindsey said she related she called for a cab in Canton Saturday night to go to nearby St. David to visit her brother. By coincidence, she got Miller's cab. She said she discussed the killing with Miller en route and said that if the man is caught "they ought to boil him in oil."

Two Die In Bus, Car Collision Near Hannibal

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)—An American Trailways bus and an automobile crashed head-on Thursday on a slick snow-packed highway, killing both occupants of the car.

Of the 11 persons on the bus, 4 were injured but none was believed seriously hurt, the Missouri highway patrol reported.

The patrol tentatively identified the victims as T. B. Conlon, about 75, Overland Park, Kan., driver of the car, and S. R. Auns of Clayton, Mo., a passenger in the car.

The mishap occurred near the top of a hill on U. S. 61 seven miles north of Hannibal.

Albert Louis Monk of Burlington, Iowa, driver of the westbound bus, was quoted by the patrol as saying the eastbound car skidded on the slick highway and got into the wrong lane of traffic. The two vehicles collided on a shoulder of the highway on the bus' side.

The four bus passengers who were slightly injured were taken to a Hannibal hospital. A bus was sent from Quincy, Ill., to pick up the other passengers.

Three of the injured passengers were released after hospital treatment. They were identified as Dal Douglas, 50, Ferris, Ill., Edward Rissmiller, 32, Hannibal, and Lucille Willhoit, 28, Shelby, Mo.

Education Meet Favors More U.S. Aid For Schools

Five Northwestern Educators Resign; Clash With Dean

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Five of the six top administrators of the Northwestern University Technological Institute resigned Thursday because of a reported clash with the dean over administration and policies.

The five educators resigned in a letter to Dr. J. Roscoe Miller, Northwestern president, but did not reveal its contents.

Dr. Miller said in a statement: "The Technological Institute is moving forward toward educational and research objectives on which both faculty and administration are in general agreement. However, there have been personality differences within the institute. In light of this, I regret the decision of five members of the faculty to withdraw from their administrative posts, although they will remain with the institute."

Four of those who resigned were department heads. They were Dr. Leroy F. Stutzman, chemical engineering; Dr. Burgess H. Jennings, mechanical engineering; Dr. John A. Logan, civil engineering; and Dr. John A. M. Lyo, electrical engineering.

The other who resigned was Dr. Miklos Hetenyi, internationally famous professor of engineering sciences.

It was reported the resignations culminated a long disagreement with Dean Donald H. Loughridge, over research policies.

The institute was opened in 1939.

It was reported that Mrs. Betty Baldwin, 24, a waitress and woman friend of Miller, gave authorities the tip that resulted in his capture.

48 Traffic Fatalities At 10 P.M. On S-D Day

Death took no note of the nation's Safe Driving (S-D) Day Thursday as a mounting traffic toll shrouded hopes there could be an appreciable cut in highway fatalities.

The National Safety Council at 10 p.m. (CST) fixed the official death toll at 48.

An Associated Press survey showed the same figure, covering the period from midnight to 10 p.m. (CST) Thursday.

Adm. H. B. Miller, director of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety, said "It is apparent that the S-D Day toll will exceed the one a year ago."

On S-D Day last Dec. 15 traffic mishaps claimed 51 lives.

Miller, apprised of the death toll at 11 p.m., issued this statement: "Obviously, this is disappointing to everyone who has hoped that the combined efforts of so many people and organizations might bring about a greater saving of life on this day."

The Associated Press survey showed this state-by-state traffic toll:

Alabama 1, California 3, Florida 1, Georgia 1, Idaho 1, Illinois 2, Indiana 3, Kansas 1, Kentucky 1, Louisiana 2, Michigan 3, Minnesota 1, Missouri 3, New York 3, New Mexico 2, North Carolina 1, Ohio 7, Pennsylvania 2, Tennessee 6, Washington 2, West Virginia 1, Wisconsin 1.

For comparative purposes The Associated Press counted the traffic fatalities for Thursday, Nov. 17. The 24-hour toll was 69.

Navy Diver Spends Nine Hours In Deep Water Before Rescue

SOLOMONS, Md. (AP)—Numb with cold, a 35-year-old Navy diver was rescued from 120 feet of water in the Patuxent River Thursday night after being submerged nearly nine hours on what was to have been an 18-minute dive.

Fifteen other Navy divers, working in relay teams of three each, finally disentangled Joseph R. Tallarico's snarled lines from a sunken anchor and he was hoisted slowly to the surface.

Tallarico, whose chief complaint during the long rescue operation was that "It's cold as hell down here," was placed in a decompression chamber at the Navy's diving school here to ward off the "bends."

At 7:30 p.m. (CST), an hour and a half after Tallarico was brought ashore, physicians pronounced him in "excellent condition."

Tallarico's home town was listed as Chicago.

Shortly after he was placed in the decompression chamber reporters, peering through a porthole, observed him sipping hot coffee and talking with a doctor.

The black-haired chief metallurgist, a Navy test diver with 10 years experience, only recently recovered from minor surgery and his wife, Carmela, told reporters: "This was Joe's first dive since ducted in darkness."

Folsom Sees Early Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House conference on education was recorded Thursday night as favoring increased federal aid to schools, and an administration spokesman predicted early action.

Secretary of Welfare Folsom said:

"I am confident that in the weeks ahead this administration will present to the Congress a broadened and improved program of federal assistance to help erase the classroom deficit."

Folsom, who had talked earlier in the day with President Eisenhower at Gettysburg, made the prediction in a speech to the closing session of the four-day White House conference. He gave no details.

One of the final actions of the conference, attended by 1,800 delegates, was the submission of a report saying the delegates were 2-1 in favor of increased federal aid to schools.

The report said a majority of the delegates, however, believed federal funds should go to states "only on a basis of demonstrated needs."

It said that of those favoring increased federal aid, an "overwhelming majority" approved the use of federal funds to help build schools.

On the question of using federal funds for operating schools, the report said the 1,800 participating delegates "divided almost evenly."

Operation of schools entails such questions as paying teacher salaries and the purchase of textbooks.

The conference report on financing schools was hammered out at a session that lingered until the small hours of Thursday morning.

Called on to present Thursday night were Mrs. Pearl A. Wanamaker, Washington state superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. Edgar Fuller, executive secretary of the Council of Chief State School Officers.

Conference planners had hoped to treat the federal aid issue as just one of the many questions plaguing schools today. But advance reports from state conferences leading up to the meeting here made it plain that many delegates considered the issue a prime one and were coming prepared to push hard for or against federal assistance.

The 100 organized labor delegates, scattered among almost as many first level roundtables, acted as a unit in keeping the question to the fore. Wednesday night they issued a statement saying the trend (Continued On Page Nine)

PEACE IS THE ISSUE

The appeal to keep foreign policy out of politics is a pretty hardy perennial but it isn't likely to do very well in the developing presidential campaign.

As everyone knows, the "outs" have got to have an issue unless they have an overwhelming advantage in the matter of candidate personalities. The Democrats, currently the "outs," have been searching for the issue that would tell.

Their early luck wasn't too good, but now the public opinion polls have come along to give them a cue. They show that by a ratio of about 5 to 1 the American people regard peace and related foreign policy questions as the overriding issue before this country.

They may, of course, change their minds before the 1956 campaign waxes hot. But right now peace, not farm problems or taxes or anything else, is what interests the average voter.

The Democrats obviously are only too happy to take up the subject. Many still smart from the heavy attacks Republicans delivered against them on foreign policy in former years. Others genuinely believe the GOP has done a very bad job in the field yet has managed to put a good face on it all.

The Democratic task is not easy. They must begin by acknowledging that there is an absence of shooting, a condition many people equate quite simply with the word "peace." But they must try to suggest that this condition is in peril, that it stands on a shaky foundation.

This effort the leading Democrats have now undertaken. Adlai Stevenson, avowed 1956 candidate for the presidency, Senator Kefauver of Tennessee and Governor Harriman of New York have all plunged in. They charge the Republicans with generating confusion, with "bungling" our diplomacy, with putting up a false front that must surely crumble and expose our danger.

Former President Truman even goes so far as to say we don't have a friend left in the world because of what the Republicans have done.

If we accept the indications that peace is uppermost in people's minds, then it seems fair enough that foreign policy issues be debated—though not in terms which suggest to foreigners that a sort of political civil war is under way. Certainly the Republicans have made their share of mistakes during President Eisenhower's tenure in office.

But the historical evidence indicates the Democrats made plenty of their own mistakes in the years before 1953. So fair-minded voters are not likely to be swayed by arguments which seek to convey that all the sinning was on one side. Foreign policy is a very tricky field, and no party has a mortgage on the programs and practices which will most effectively serve this nation.

FRIENDSHIP WITH A CAPITAL 'F'

The friendly little scene at the town square in Gettysburg, Pa., was pretty typical of the receptions President Eisenhower has been getting since he walked out of the hospital in Denver a while ago.

A local college band struck up "Happy Birthday" for Mamie, and a girl handed her some roses. Signs by the score welcomed "Ike" to his new home on a farm nearby.

In these greetings to the President and his wife one could see the warmth of real fondness. This isn't adulation for a military hero or for a national leader looking down from a lofty pedestal. "Ike" is a friend, a very comforting friend to have in the presidency—wherever it may be operating.

And he responds like a friend. His public remarks unfailingly voice thanks to all who have remembered him in his illness. At Gettysburg he did not forget to thank the school children who waved or called to him along his route to town.

He never gets mawkish, but his innate decency is always there for all to see.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P)—"Me retire? Nah. I don't think an actor ever retires—unless he can't get a job anywhere. Of course, I would like to quit at least a few days before that happens. But you never can tell; you might wait two or three years and a role will come out from under a rock."

This was Spencer Tracy in a mellow mood. He was finishing up a picture called "The Mountain" and he felt pretty good—despite, or perhaps of, his most strenuous role in years.

Since Tracy has left his long tenancy at MGM, there have been reports that he was going to retire. He scoffed at this, but added wryly, "I don't know how much longer people will want to look at this man."

Probably as long as he wants to expose it. Because the two-time Oscar winner is still one of the screen's stalwarts. He shows no signs of slowing down.

As a matter of fact, he just returned from the toughest location of his career. "The Mountain" company shot right on Mt. Blanc in the Alps.

"It was a three-mile trip up the mountain every day," he said. "And sometimes we had to walk three hours over rock and snow to get to the location."

He and co-star Robert Wagner got the scare of their lives when the suspended car taking them up to the peak suddenly stopped. The jolt swung the bottom of the car up to the cable, and there was nothing but rarified air—and lots of it—beneath them. They were stranded for 35 harrowing minutes until service was resumed.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (P)—If the English language had a mother and father they'd probably cry at what happens when the politicians of both parties start throwing their baby around.

Secretary of State Dulles, whose handling of foreign policy will be one of the Democrats' targets in the presidential campaign, wants foreign policy criticism—if any—to be "constructive."

The Democrats and Dulles may run into a little difficulty seeing eye to eye on what is "constructive."

And Adlai Stevenson, who thought he was putting his best foot forward in starting his drive for the presidency on a note of "moderation," suddenly discovered that a couple of very prominent Democrats abhor the word.

In the 1952 campaign Dulles may have thought he was "constructive" with his blasts at the Democrats' foreign policy. They didn't seem to think so at the time and may even throw some of his 1952 speeches back at him in 1956.

In 1952 he said, "We should create crises for Russia instead of Russia creating crises for us." He's been secretary since 1953 but this country has created no crises for Russia.

In 1952 he said many nations feared the United States "may rashly precipitate atomic warfare." But Dulles, as secretary, reportedly gave American allies the jitters when he talked of "massive retaliation" against the Reds.

In 1952 he proposed a plan to "disintegrate the empire of Soviet Russia" from within. How? By "passive resistance, slowdowns and noncooperation" in the satellites.

This got such a bad reaction—to some Dulles seemed to be urging the unarmed satellite people to revolt against their Communist masters—that a few days later he said he meant only there were "peaceful ways" to do the job.

But in the years since Dulles became secretary, the satellites are just as firmly satellites as before. It was in his Nov. 19 speech outlining his program if elected president, that Stevenson said, "Moderation is the spirit of the times" no be confused with stagnation.

This didn't sit well with New York's Gov. Averell Harriman, who insists he's not actively seeking the Democratic presidential nomination although he has made so many speeches lately that some people are unconvinced.

He told a news conference—the day after Stevenson's speech—there is no such word as "moderate" in the Democratic party. It is not known whether Harriman looked up the word before he used it.

But the American College Dictionary says of "moderation": quality of being moderate; restraint; avoidance of extremes; temperance.

If Harriman doesn't want to be considered moderate, he can hardly want to be considered the opposite, which is immoderate. The dictionary says of "immoderation": exceeding just or reasonable limits; excessive; extreme.

Although Harriman hasn't said anything so far that makes any program he has look much different from Stevenson's, he nevertheless got a lot of publicity mileage out of his criticism.

Then Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams got in on the act. He said: "It is upsetting now to hear from our side counsels for a pause for breathtaking and moderation."

But so far he hasn't offered anything very startling either.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—Gil McDougald, the distinguished young New York Yankee infielder, has returned from a goodwill baseball safari to Japan in top condition except for a bad case of writer's cramp.

"Everybody in Japan is baseball-crazy—from kids to old men," he marveled. "They play it day and night all the year round. And every fan seems to be an autograph collector."

"One day I looked out my hotel window and saw a businessman plying catch during the lunch hour on the roof on the building across the street. He must have been 60 years old."

The Yankees, who dropped the 1955 World Series to the Brooklyn Dodgers, did considerably better against Japanese ball clubs. They won all but one of their 20 games and that ended in a 1-1 tie, called after the 10th inning on account of darkness.

As a matter of fact, one of the pleasantest things about the trip to the Yankees was that the Japanese, who are the soul of courtesy, never mentioned "Brooklyn" or "Dodgers" once.

"I never saw fans so polite," observed Gil. "They never hooted us a single time."

"The stands were completely quiet—almost like a morgue—until the Japanese team started a rally or a Yankee hit a home run. Then they'd go wild."

The Yankees found the national pastime of Japan essentially the same as the American national pastime except the Japanese play on an all-dirt field and use a slightly lighter and smaller ball.

"You can't knock it as far, and that bothered us a little," admitted McDougald.

The 6-foot-plus lanky Yankee star gave this assessment of Japanese big league play:

"They are fine in the infield, but seem to lack throwing strength from the outfield. The fans were particularly impressed by the way Hank Bauer could pick up a line drive to right field and throw and catch the runner at first."

"At bat the Japanese try too hard to powerhouse the ball instead of depending on coordination."

But the most mysterious thing he found in the way baseball is played in the mysterious East was the pitching.

"They use a hesitation ball," he said. "It was our biggest problem. The pitcher slows up at all stages of his windup, and depends on his windup to deceive the batter rather than on the spin or the speed of the ball. And every two or three innings the pitcher, worn out by his windup, would be replaced by a new pitcher."

An American pitcher, when he is relieved during a tense game, goes right to the showers, then hurries home to pick a quarrel with his wife—or kick his dog around.

"But when a Japanese pitcher is jerked," said McDougald, "he goes to the sidelines and pitches warmup balls for another 15 minutes. I suppose he does it to save face in front of the crowd. Anyway, nobody boos him."

Parties Take a New Look At Some Farm Discards

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A considerable amount of double-talk can be detected in the planning for new farm programs to bolster the farmers' falling income.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson keeps right on preaching the orthodox Republican line. This is that the farmer should be given more freedom from regimentation. But almost every farm policy now being considered would mean more control.

In a perfectly free farm economy, if there were great farm surpluses, farm prices would be allowed to fall as far as they pleased. Farmers would simply have to take their losses.

The farmers' only salvation would be to plant less the following year. NEARLY EVERY FARM POLICY since the depression has been designed to protect the farmer against taking the licking from these price drops.

This has been true regardless of whether Democrats or Republicans have been in control.

It has been learned the hard way, however, that there can't be price supports without crop limitation. And even the crop limitation quotas and controls haven't worked too well.

When acreage limitations are imposed, farmers simply plant crop rows closer together and use more fertilizer.

For example, the cotton yield has risen in 10 years from 230 pounds per acre to 431 pounds per acre. Similar increases can be cited on corn, potatoes and other major crops.

New controls are now having to be thought up to correct the shortcomings of existing controls.

ONE IS A PLAN to put the quota limitation not on the number of acres each farmer can plant, but on the number of pounds or bushels he can produce and market. This, of course, would apply only to surplus crops.

For production over the farmer's quota, he would have to pay a penalty. This penalty might be as high as, say 50 per cent of the support price level. He couldn't get a government loan at support price on his quota production until the penalty was paid.

Now this is no new Republican idea. It was thought of first back in the Henry Wallace era. It was given up as impractical and too hard to administer.

In the surplus potato crisis of 1949-50 Congress considered imposing bushel limitations but finally decided again to throw them out the window.

Now they're back again, with bipartisan support.

THE OTHER NEW CONTROL being toyed with is the plan to make farmers withdraw a part of their acreage—say 10 per cent—from cash crop production.

Instead of raising more wheat, corn, cotton or other products now in surplus supply, the farmer would be urged to plant grass or other crops which would increase soil fertility.

This land could be brought back into cash crop production when needed later on. With increases in population greater food demands are expected.

The farmer would, of course, have to be paid an incentive for not producing. That's the big catch. But farmers who didn't comply might be made ineligible for price support loans.

This proposed acreage reduction plan is also nothing new. It is Henry Wallace's old "soil bank" idea, now being warmed over as a bipartisan dish.

That Congress will go for imposing any of these additional controls on "free" agriculture in an election year is considered extremely doubtful.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Usually Mental Retardation Can Be Found By I. Q. Test

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

One of the big problems facing our society concerns those among us who are mentally retarded. A mentally retarded person is defined as one who does not have the natural intelligence and ability to carry his own load in life.

Since it is estimated that between one and three out of 100 people have some degree of mental retardation, it is easy to see how important this problem is.

Ordinary, mental retardation can be identified sometime during childhood by properly administered and interpreted tests of mental development known as intelligence quotient or I. Q. tests.

These Are A measure of the child's ability to learn rather than what the child already knows. The difference of a few points, however, does not mean much. Also, there are several kinds of I. Q. tests and the "scoring" of them is different.

The I. Q. is figured by dividing the mental age as calculated by one of the intelligence tests in common use by the actual age of the child in years, and multiplying the result by 100.

Although parents are often inclined to pay too much attention to the I. Q. of their children, these tests do have some real value.

If the I. Q. is far below normal, the child must be considered to be a true idiot and cannot be educated in school subjects; such children usually require care in an institution.

The next lowest group are imbeciles who can learn to perform simple household duties but do not go far in school subjects.

Above these two low groups are the less seriously retarded children about 33,000.

who can often be taught to learn enough to support themselves in simple occupations, but are not likely to go beyond the elementary grades of school.

It Is Not possible to drill or train a youngster with a low I. Q. into a definitely higher group.

This may be a hard thing for parents to realize, but it should be.

These are, however, some experimental work going on with a substance called glutamic acid and its effect on the intelligence. This substance appears to raise the intelligence as measured by the I. Q.

However, it must be emphasized that the results are not remarkable and the work has not gone far enough as yet for anyone to be sure whether it will have practical value for children of below normal natural intelligence.

It Should Be pointed out that many mentally retarded children can be helped to lead useful, productive and happy lives.

In addition to the aid which can be obtained from physicians, institutions, school supervisors, psychologists, psychiatrists, and others, there is now an organization known as the National Association for Retarded Children, 99 University Place, New York 3, N. Y., which is doing splendid work through its nearly 400 units throughout the country.

FISHING FLEETS
Largest commercial fishing fleets are in Japan, with nearly 300,000 craft; the United States (including Alaska), with nearly 90,000; Spain, about 38,000; and Italy, the less seriously retarded children about 33,000.

Proper Daytime TV Could Ease Housewife's Burden

The saddest current commentary on feminine intelligence is the trash handed out to the American housewife by way of the daytime television shows.

What can a housewife, tied down by small children or lack of transportation, get from her television set during most of the daylight hours? She can hear a lot of uninhibited hard-luck stories told by people seeking handouts, she can listen to a group of charm boys kid around with each other and tell dirty jokes and sing songs in flat voices, she can see TV versions of soap operas, and so on and on hour after hour.

Why don't TV producers wake up to the fact that the American housewife isn't a moron but a woman with a hard, sometimes monotonous, but always challenging job?

Why don't they see that the American housewife is a woman of many varied interests who would really like to learn something while her husband is at work and her older children are at school?

THEY WOULD LIKE TO LEARN SOMETHING

Great numbers of housewives would welcome a course in interior decoration, put on by an expert. They would listen with real attention to famous chefs, to marriage counselors, to child-guidance authorities to landscape and gardening experts, to interviews with women who do unusual jobs, to housekeeping short cuts that would lighten their routines.

There is so much that television could offer the full-time housewife it is a shame it offers her such shoddy fare.

If instead of saying "I never turn on my TV set in the afternoon," intelligent housewives would sit down and write letters to the networks saying why they don't, they might get better daytime TV fare. As it is, the TV producers listen only to the TV addicts who will look at anything. They completely ignore the woman who would look and listen if she could LEARN.

Virginia Future Farmers Attend Livestock Show

VIRGINIA, Ill.—Rex Tracy, FFA of Meredosia, and Lee Huffman, Baird Quigg, George Stanley, William Petefish and Shaw Terwilliger, all of Virginia, accompanied the following Future Farmers from Virginia to Chicago, where they attended the International Livestock Show: Tip Cline, Richie Thompson, Ed Bierhaus, Doug Griffin, Robert Jokisch, Ronnie Darland, Frank Alcorn, Wayne Walter, Richard Walton, Bill Springer, Carl Walker, Robert Drinkwater, Roger Jokisch, Ronnie McLeod and Vicki Petefish.

The group left Virginia at 12:30 midnight Friday, Nov. 25, and arrived in Chicago about 7 o'clock Saturday morning. They traveled by school bus, driven by George Stanley, and after establishing themselves in the Y.M.C.A. hotel, they went on a sightseeing tour of the business district and enjoyed a view of the city from atop the Board of Trade building.

Upon arriving at the stockyards, they saw carload lots of cattle, then entered the International show, where they looked over the many exhibits. They were interested in watching the National Collegiate Livestock judging. In the evening, the junior champion steer and champion barrow were judged.

They witnessed the Night Horse Show and saw different classes of show horses and an exhibition of sheep dogs herding sheep. Part of the program was a Western horse parade and a game of Musical Chairs on horseback played with stockyard horses, also, an exhibition by a class of 66 jumping horses and hunters. The show closed at 12:30 Saturday night.

Sunday morning, the group enjoyed a trip through the Museum of Science and Industry, in Jackson Park. Here they were joined by two Virginia high school students, Myra Schneider and Freda Newberry, who had spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Chicago, and who returned to Virginia with the Future Farmers, on the school bus. The group left Chicago, Sunday, at 3:15 p.m., after an interesting and profitable experience.

BOLAND BETTER GROW

HANOVER, N. H. (P)—Although Cornell lost to Dartmouth, 7-0, the losers' coach, Lefty James, regards the play of Art Boland, his 155-pound halfback from Lynn, Mass., "the finest defensive performance by a Cornell back this season." Boland intercepted a pass in the end zone and made tackles all over the field. Before the game a gatekeeper denied him permission to the field. But late he was identified.

CENTURY CAGERS

NEW YORK (P)—Clyde Lovellette of Minneapolis, Maurice Stokes of Rochester and Paul Arizin of Philadelphia are the first National Basketball Assn. players to reach the 100-point mark this season. Lovellette had 121 points in six games. Stokes made 107 tallies in five contests and Arizin netted 103 tallies in four games.

FREE-STYLE ELECTION

BROOKLAND, Ark. (P)—Mayor Jewell Anderson decided to step out of the job, but the town fathers couldn't find anyone who wanted to succeed him. So the citizens voted on blank ballots, writing in the names of their candidates. Alex Smith got the job with 24 votes. His nearest competitor, G. C. Baker, got 2.

COSTLY STABLE

HALLANDALE, Fla. (P)—When the Valley View Farm of 69-year-old J. L. Younghusband of Barrington, Ill., races at Gulfstream it will represent a costly purchase of yearlings. Younghusband paid $302,500 for 27 colts at the Keeneland Sales this year. He has 36 older horses in training.

BIRDS OF PARADISE

KUSHIRO, Japan (P) — Japan's white, scarlet-crested Sacred Cranes are going to live henceforth in lush surroundings on this northernmost island of Hokkaido. City fathers are building what they call "a well guarded and well organized palatial abode" complete with gardens, bathing pools and nursery grounds for the Sacred Cranes. So far as is known, the breed exists nowhere else in Japan.

DAN returned to the store and stood by the window watching the saloon.

He suddenly straightened when he saw Juarez and Egan come into his vision and cross the street. Dan wondered where Pace had gone but something in the attitude of the two bandits held his attention. Juarez waited on the walk while Egan hurried to the saloon door, opened it and stuck his head inside. In a moment Starratt came out.

Dan watched the three talk. Juarez grinning and making a motion toward the street that led to the Gorton shack. With a sinking feeling, Dan realized that they had discovered Hal's hangout. Starratt laughed and clapped Juarez on the back.

Dan hurried down the steps and along the path of beaten snow to the corner.

He was almost to the Frazin house and now he could see the high fence of the lumber yard. He stopped short when he saw a slender figure hurry along it, from the direction of the office. Pace Odium was on a trail of his own.

Dan stood immobile. He stared in horror at the house where he knew beyond doubt Pace was. He could no longer see Paul, but he could picture the man knocking on the door, Paula innocently opening it. Dan's glance cut to Juarez and Egan, still standing close together and looking toward the Gorton shack. Dan's panic and uncertainty mounted. He could not be two places at once and either choice would bring him face to face with killers.

He swung sharply left, cutting behind the smithy, beating his way through drifted snow toward the lumber yard fence. Hal

Crane had a slim chance of evading Juarez and Egan, but Paula would have none against the unpredictable killer with the angelic smile.

DAN half expected to hear glass break and the roar of a shot as he raced along the path to the back door.

But he could hear voices. Paula's raised in anger. Then Pace answered, voice so low that Dan could not make out the words. He eased the door closed behind him and looked desperately around for some sort of weapon and his eyes fell on the woodbox beside the range. He walked tiptoe across the room and slowly, carefully eased a long heavy piece of wood out of the box. He grimly turned to the door leading into the dining room.

Now he could hear voices more plainly and there was a lifting note of fear in Paula's tones.

Suddenly Pace cursed. Paula screamed and a chair crashed over. Dan threw caution away, lunged through the door and into the parlor.

Paula had avoided the man's first rush and had placed the table between herself and Pace. As Dan rushed into the room, Pace wheeled and crouched, hand slashing down to his holster. Dan knew he could never beat that blurring gun and he threw the billet of wood, its jagged front hurtling directly at the handsome face.

Pace had only a glimpse of the projectile. He ducked and threw up his arm in an instinctive gesture. It missed his head by a whisper and crashed against the far wall. Paula screamed again. Pace had been delayed just long enough for Dan to reach him.

Dan grimly bore in as Pace tried to bring the gun into play again. Dan's fingers grabbed his wrist. He discovered then that Pace might be slender but his muscles were whipcord and spring steel. The red lips peeled back in blazing anger and Pace whipped about, slamming a fist into Dan's stomach and also trying to free his wrist from Dan's grip.

HE nearly succeeded, the blow making Dan gasp for breath. But he hung grimly on and used his greater size to bear the lighter man back. They hit a chair and both went down in a thrashing tangle of arms and legs. Pace twisted like a cat even as he fell and Dan's grip slipped from the gun wrist. He grabbed frantically, missed, but his hand knocked the gun aside as it exploded again. Then he had the slender wrist in his hand and his arm and shoulder muscles bunched as his fingers tightened and twisted.

Pace's arm slowly moved back and to one side. Dan exerting a steady, savage pressure that made the boyish face writhe with pain.

Suddenly Pace arched, steel-spring muscles forcing Dan's heavier weight up. With a sudden twist Pace threw Dan to one side, though Dan still held grimly on to the little killer. Now Pace was above him and the pale eyes had a wild glare, like that of a cougar.

Dan had a glimpse of Paula just over the outlaw's shoulder, caught the blurring sweep of her arms. The billet of wood crashed against the back of Pace's head and the man went limp, the gun dropping from his nerveless fingers.

Dan hastily threw him aside, grabbed the weapon and came to his feet. Pace didn't move, lying with arms outflung, eyes closed. Paula dropped the wood and swayed.

"I . . . I killed him!" Dan glanced at the fallen outlaw. "No, just knocked out. Too bad you didn't. It would save the cost of a trial and a hangman later on."

WHO'S HUNTING WHOM?

WALSLEBURG, Colo. (P) — There's one bear in mountainous southern Colorado who hasn't quite learned his place in the world. He went hunting for a hunter.

John L. Palmer of Trinidad, Colo., camped in the mountains, was awakened when the bear took a bite at his head. He suffered deep cuts, but scared off the big animal before it could do further damage. Palmer was treated at a hospital here, then returned to the mountains to hunt the bear that hunted him.

HOOKED DUCK

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (P) — City Park Supt. S. B. Batten, feeding the nine ducks which inhabit the park's lake, was puzzled because one of them was out in the middle and wouldn't come in for his food.

Batten rowed out to investigate. He found the duck had swallowed a fish hook and the attached leader was fouled around a water lily.

David Prince Cagers Overwhelm Rushville 39-19

RUSHVILLE (Special)—Coach Paul Keller's David Prince Junior High School quintet handed host Rushville a 39-19 basketball defeat here last night.

Taking full advantage of a sharp superiority in height and a greater edge in speed, DP moved ahead in the early moments of the game and was never threatened.

The hosts gained a measure of revenge in the preliminary "high-weight" contest with a 46-30 victory.

David Prince next sees action Friday, Dec. 9, at Quincy.

Sporting News All Star Roster Names 7 Nat'l Leaguers

ST. LOUIS (P)—Seven National Leaguers, including three from the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers, Thursday were named to the 1955 all-star major league team by The Sporting News.

The national baseball weekly selected the team after a poll of 166 members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America.

The lineup:

Catcher — Roy Campanella, Dodgers.

Pitchers — Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phillies; Don Newcombe, Dodgers; and Whitey Ford, New York Yankees.

Minors Again Ask Big League TV Restricted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—The minor leagues made their annual move to restrict big league radio and TV broadcasts in the face of an expected rebuff and appealed to the majors for "sympathetic and active cooperation" if they are to continue to work together.

While he announced the radio-TV ban had been passed, Bob Finch, minors' public relations chief, admitted it probably would get nowhere with the majors who will act next week at Chicago.

The latest radio-TV restriction would bar commercial broadcasts of major or minor games on stations outside a club's "home" territory. The "home" territory would be that within 75 miles of the ball park.

The minors also agreed to set up a committee to study the "game of the week" TV project announced by President Walter O'Malley of

Jeffcoat Changes Mind: Says He'll Report To Redlegs

CHICAGO (P)—Hal Jeffcoat, reliever pitcher traded by the Chicago Cubs to Cincinnati Monday, changed his mind about quitting baseball Thursday and said he would fulfill "a moral responsibility" to report to the Redlegs.

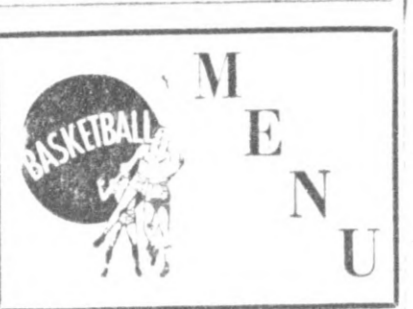

Tuesday, Jeffcoat, once a weak-hitting outfielder, announced he would quit baseball rather than give up his Chicago insurance business. Jeffcoat was swapped by the Cubs for catcher Hobie Landridge.

"I have not changed my mind about making insurance my life's work," said the 31-year-old Jeffcoat, who was with the Cubs eight years.

He said that after "long, arduous study and consideration" he felt that "I have a moral responsibility to the Cincinnati fans and baseball and that I should fulfill it."

Birdie Tebbetts, Redleg manager, Jeffcoat's insurance partner, and Mr. Jeffcoat were in on the conference which changed his mind, the player said.

Mel Soong, San Jose State half-back, was class president at Kamehameha High School in Honolulu.

'Hopalong' Cassidy, Ron Beagle On Roster For 2nd Year In Row

By TED SMITH

NEW YORK (P)—Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, Ohio State's star back, and Ron Beagle, Navy's great end, won All-America recognition for the second straight year on the 1955 Associated Press team.

The team was chosen on the recommendation of regional boards covering the entire nation. Certificates will be presented to all members of the first three teams.

Earl Morrill of Michigan State heads up a backfield with Cassidy that includes two juniors — James Swink of Texas Christian and Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma.

Gary Glick of Colorado A. and M., the surprise bonus choice in the National Football League, is in the second backfield.

The first team line is composed of Beagle and Howard Schnellenberger of Kentucky at ends; Paul Wiggins of Stanford and Frank D'Agostino of Auburn at tackles; Jim Brown of U.C.L.A. and Pasquale (Pat) Bisceglia of Notre Dame at guards; and Robert Pellegrini of Maryland at center.

Because the Associated Press All-America is based on the entire season's play, some September and October stars failed to make the grade, due chiefly to injuries. Included on this list are Ron Kramer, Michigan end, and Joe Childress, Auburn back. Tom Maentz, Kramer's teammate, is on the second team.

In the second backfield with Glick are Bob Davenport, U.C.L.A.; Jon Arnett, Southern California; and Don Schaefer, Notre Dame.

On the second line are Maentz and John Paluck of Pittsburgh at ends; Calvin Jones of Iowa and Bruce Bosley of West Virginia at tackles; Bo Bolinger of Oklahoma and Scott Suber of Mississippi State at guards; and Hugh Pitts of Texas Christian at center.

Ralph Chesnauskas of Army, who made the first All-America at guard last year, sacrificed personal glory for the good of his team. He was used both at tackle and end this season and lost a chance to repeat his 1954 recognition.

Here is what the 11 first team men did to win recognition:

Cassidy — He rushed the ball 161 times in 9 games for a net gain of 958 yards, and an average of almost 6 yards. He scored 15 touchdowns to bring his total of points 222, breaking the 3-year school record of 201 set in 1919 by Ohio State's immortal Chick Harley.

Morrill — Quarterback of Michigan State's complicated multiple offense, Morrill is close to the top in total offense with 1,047 yards made on 115 rushing and passing plays. He attempted 68 passes and completed 42 for a .618 average, and 941 yards.

McDonald — Became the first Oklahoma player ever to score at least one touchdown on a rush in every game on the schedule. For the season he made 702 yards on 103 carries, and completed 17 out of 24 passes for 265 yards.

Swink — Carried the ball 157 times during the 10 games season and gained 1,284 yards. He scored 20 touchdowns and made 5 extra points.

Beagle — Set a new academy record by catching 30 passes for an amazing 451 yards and 4 touchdowns.

Schnellenberger — Caught 20 passes for 287 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Since 1872 Yale has won the Ivy League football title 18 times and shared the championship on eight occasions.

They bet a record $82,685,610 through the parimutuel machines compared with last year's previous all-time high of $81,053,267. That, in terms of the country's estimated population of 157,000,000, was equivalent to about $5.20 per Canadian.

The Agriculture Department issued its annual report Thursday.

The top women athlete of the half century rushed from her Tampa, Fla., home to John Seely Hospital last week after continued pain in her hip and leg.

In 1953 she underwent surgery for removal of a rectal cancer. Doctors on Aug. 4 of this year again found a "small cancer lesion" in the pelvic area and she was discharged in September after treatment.

Saxton stepped out twice to let me fight DeMarco and he deserves the next chance," said the 28-year-old Basilio. "I'm going to beat him, too. As for the date I will have to wait and see. Both of my hands are sore the couldn't clench his left hand" but the doctor said he didn't think there were any breaks. "I'll have the hand X-rayed in Syracuse in a few days."

"DeMarco is a real tough fighter. He hits harder than anyone in the welterweight division. He'll have to learn to pace himself. I must say this was my most successful victory because I knew I wouldn't have to knock DeMarco out to win here. I could tell by the way the referee treated me in the infighting. "The referee gave me no breaks in the infighting. He nearly pulled my arm off a couple of times in breaking. Whenever I was getting in some good punches inside, he'd break us, give me a mean look and snarl at me. I told you to break," He'd tell DeMarco softly, "Break Tony!"

Basilio's 12th round technical knockout in 1:54 stretched his unbeaten streak to 15 fights. He required just two more seconds last night than he needed in Syracuse June 10 when he won the crown from the stout Bostonian.

The beaten challenger, meanwhile, said he has no intention of retiring, despite rumors he planned to quit.

Nursing his wounds at a hotel the gashed and bruised DeMarco said "I'm not retiring—I'm just starting. I'm only 23. Some champions don't get their titles until they're 28. I think I'll get the title back. I don't think I've reached my peak. I've got some things to learn and I'll be a better fighter."

DeMarco had an inch-long cut over his left eye and a smaller one over the right.

MACOMB (Special)—Out-classed but game in their first basketball appearance of the season, coach Al Miller's Illinois College Blueboys bowed 74-47 to Western Illinois State Teachers' College here last night.

Western parlayed superior height and a fast-break offensive that one observer termed "out of this world" into a commanding lead in

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Quiet profit taking ruled most sections of the stock market Thursday, bringing a moderate decline.

Some key issues lost $2 in light trading but most losses were held to around $1 and there were scattered wide moves on the upside.

The steels, motors, rails, rubbers, mail orders, utilities, chemicals and radio-televisions were mostly lower. The motion picture and airline shares resisted the downtrend with fractional gains while some oils moved ahead easily.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks, which Wednesday came close to new high territory, lost 80 cents Thursday to close at $180.20. The high is $181.50, set just before President Eisenhower fell ill in September.

The industrial component of the average declined $1.20 Thursday, the rails 80 cents and the utilities 10 cents.

Trading was active only at the start and volume declined to 2,370,000 shares from 2,900,000 Wednesday.

Prices moved up generally in early dealings but a slow decline soon set in which held until the close.

American Stock Exchange prices were mostly lower. Volume was 940,000 shares against 950,000 Wednesday.

MOST GRAINS GAIN ON MIXED MARKET

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—In a mixed grain market plus signs outnumbered minus signs at the close on the Board of Trade Thursday.

Main strength showed up in corn, even though it did fall back a bit before the finish. Oats, rye and old crop wheat futures also advanced. Soybeans and new crop wheat retreated.

Wheat closed 3/4 lower to 1/4 higher, corn 1/2-1 1/4 higher, oats unchanged to 3/4 higher, rye 1/4-1 1/4 higher, soybeans 3/4-1 1/2 lower and hard 12 to 18 cents a hundred pounds higher.

In back of the corn upturn was another strong cash corn market. Receipts totaled only 144 cars and prices spurted 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents. No. 2 yellow corn, selling at a discount of 8 cents under the December contract only a few weeks ago, was at a premium of 1 1/2 cents.

New crop wheat futures sold off early, pulling the old crop months with them. This selling followed receipt of rain or snow over a good part of the winter wheat belt.

Later, the old crop months led a brisk rally in wheat. The buying stemmed from belief cash wheat delivered on December contracts had gone into strong hands, plus indications of a good export business in the immediate future.

Exporters said West Germany was scheduled to buy 3,730,000 bushels of hard wheat next week. Other potential buyers are Greece, Japan, Formosa, Brazil and Israel. Japan is scheduled to buy a large quantity of soybeans.

The latter commodity turned in a rather disappointing performance in view of further firming in the cash bean meal price. Meal sold at $49.00 a ton, its best price since Nov. 14. The recent low was $46.00.

Beans appeared to be subjected to profit taking after the brisk run up in the closing minutes of the previous session.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrial and utility issues declined to lead the bond market lower Thursday. Trading was on the slow side.

U. S. Treasury obligations were firm in quiet trading.

Volume on the Big Board declined to $2,820,000 par value from $3,480,000 Wednesday.

Needs Of Youth Studied, Discussed By Adult Panel

Two speakers appeared at the third meeting this week of the Area Youth Leadership Workshop at the YMCA Youth Center. The meeting consisted of a duo-panel presentation with Edward Hopper, supervising sociologist in the Illinois Youth Commission and Dr. Robert Alexander from MacMurray College, speaking.

Mr. Hopper's subject was "Personal Needs of Youth." He stated that the basic problem which he has had to face in his research has been in answering the question, "How do children acquire the habits, the values, the ideas that they do?" The bulk of his informative talk composed the answer to this question.

Dr. Alexander spoke on "Personal Needs of Youth." His talk revealed every child is exposed to a constantly expanding environment. He followed the contacts a child makes in growing up, both in the home and outside influence.

A stimulating discussion followed the two talks and many questions were asked of both speakers. One of the areas in which a community need was felt needed by some was in the direction of more diversified recreation to be opened for all age groups and children dealing with all social levels.

Boat Club Members Repair Xmas Toys

Santa Claus is a busy man these days, and the Jacksonville Boat Club has a well-equipped workshop to help him.

Nearly a dozen club members are already devoting much spare time to repair and reconditioning of children's toys for distribution on the night before Christmas. They need more toys, and the public is urged to make available cast-off toys to be repaired.

The trap house at the Boat Club grounds on Lake Mauvaisterre has been fitted up as a work room, where the toy-repairers gather each evening. They have a portable electric welding outfit, a paint sprayer, and other equipment.

The Boat Club voted at a recent meeting to appropriate a fund for paint and other necessary expenses. Several tricycles and wagons have already been put into first class running order and brightened up with paint. Numerous other toys have been reconditioned, but the workers can do more.

Citizens in this community having cast-off toys for repair and distribution are asked to phone R-0720; 2540Y or 2547Y, which are numbers of Jacksonville Boat Club members interested in the work. The toys will be called for.

The Junior Woman's club is helping the project along with a contribution of a toy from each member.

Newhouse Adds Alabama Dailies To Growing Group

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—In a record $18,700,000 deal, Publisher S. I. Newhouse Thursday added two Alabama dailies to his growing group of newspaper properties.

He also acquired a television station and three radio stations. The one-time $2 a week office boy bought the Birmingham News, Alabama's largest paper, and the Huntsville Times, the only daily in that North Alabama city.

He paid 16 1/2 million dollars and assumed liabilities of $2,200,000.

Editor and Publisher, newspaper trade magazine, termed it the biggest transaction in American newspaper history. The magazine said the previous high was 18 million dollars which Cyrus Curtis paid in 1930 to buy the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Alabama dailies became the 12th and 13th papers in the Newhouse group, which spans the continent.

Newhouse added TV station WABT and radio stations WAPI and WAFM in Birmingham, and WHBS in Huntsville to his properties.

The Birmingham News has an afternoon circulation of 187,000 and a Sunday circulation of 230,000. The Huntsville Times has 20,000 circulation.

Earlier this year, Newhouse bought the 103-year-old St. Louis Globe-Democrat for more than six million dollars.

Other papers owned by Newhouse include the Syracuse, N.Y., Post-Standard and the Herald-Journal; the Portland Oregonian; the Harrisburg, Pa. Patriot and the News; the Newark, N.J., Star-Ledger; the Jersey Journal of Jersey City, N.J., and three New York City papers, the Long Island Press, the Long Island Star-Journal and the Staten Island Advance.

William Woodward Leaves Widow Income For Life

NEW YORK (AP)—The fourth and last will written by William Woodward Jr. was admitted for probate Wednesday in Surrogate's Court. Under the latest will, dated 1948, the widow receives a life income from a third of his estimated 10-million-dollar-estate, with the other two-thirds being put in trust for the two Woodward children.

Mrs. Woodward's share reverts to them upon her death. In cash she was left $2,500—the legal minimum under New York law.

The 35-year-old socialite-sportsman was shot to death last Oct. 30 by his wife, Ann, 39, in their Oyster Bay, Long Island, home.

Woodward said she fired a shotgun after hearing a noise she believed had been made by a prowler. Last Friday, a Nassau County grand jury absolved her of any blame in her husband's death.

Woodward wrote two wills in 1945, two years after he married the former showgirl. In each of them he bequeathed Mrs. Woodward personal property, $200,000 in cash and income from a third of the remaining estate.

In 1947, the millionaire owner of the racehorse Nashua wrote a will giving Mrs. Woodward personal property, $200,000 in cash and income from half the remainder.

Harold H. Corbin, special guardian for the Woodward youngsters—William, III, 11 years old, and James, 7—asked that Woodward's last will be admitted to probate as "more favorable to my wards than the three previous wills."

Surrogate William T. Collins assented.

Family spokesmen said Woodward made cash provisions for his wife, during his lifetime. Some published reports estimated he turned over as much as two million dollars to her.

Next April another 3 per cent pay raise will become effective.

The strike was called off immediately although union members at the firm's plants in Missouri, Arkansas, Illinois and Tennessee still have to vote on it.

Injured Two Hours Before S-D Day Begins

Two hours before the arrival of S-D (Safe Driving Day) at Jacksonville State hospital employee was injured and a 1949 Chevrolet car he was driving was badly damaged in an accident one and a fourth miles south of Manchester.

The car driven by Clarence B. McGinnis, 39, jumped entirely over a four foot fence on the east side of U. S. Alternate Route 67, after slamming against a bank. The wreck occurred at 10 o'clock Wednesday night.

After the driver lost control of the car it leaped the fence, tearing off some of the barbed wire, and overturned in a corn field on the Robert VanThyle farm, about 40 feet from the highway.

State Patrolmen Clyde Vasconcellos, Jr., and Charles Batley were called to the scene. They said McGinnis was traveling south at the time of the accident.

The injured man was taken to Murrayville, where Dr. T. J. Wilson administered emergency treatment, taking 10 stitches in a scalp wound. McGinnis was scheduled for X-ray examination Thursday at the state hospital, where he resides in the nurses' home.

The automobile was towed to the Brummett garage in this city. It was taken out of the field by opening a couple of gates by which the wrecker could gain entrance.

Ike Reviews U.S. Defenses In Secret Council Session

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower reviewed the nation's defenses Thursday in a top-secret session of the National Security Council. The meeting took place in a rustic lodge at Camp David, six miles up the Catoctin Mountains from here.

Five helicopters, swinging up from the Pentagon in Washington and landing in an athletic field on the President's heavily guarded hideaway, military and diplomatic advisers.

The President made the 22-mile trip from his Gettysburg, Pa., farmhouse by auto.

The Security Council session was the second in little more than a week. Interest in the meeting was heightened by speculation the President is approaching a decision on the size of the military budget he will submit to Congress in January. The Defense Department budget for this year was $34 billion dollars.

Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, are due to follow up Thursday's discussions with a trip to Eisenhower's office in the Gettysburg Post Office Building Friday to continue the talks.

Friday's conference will lay the groundwork for still another Gettysburg session next Tuesday in which Wilson and Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes will again talk military figures with the President.

Next April another 3 per cent pay raise will become effective.

The strike was called off immediately although union members at the firm's plants in Missouri, Arkansas, Illinois and Tennessee still have to vote on it.

No traffic accidents occurring in the immediate Jacksonville area had been reported to the police department or the sheriff's office, despite the extremely slick highways and streets and the poor visibility.

Safe Driving Day, a national event, began at midnight Wednesday and ran until midnight last night.

This marks the second consecutive year that the Jacksonville community has come through S-D Day without any accidents.

Two Injured In Accident Near Chandlerville

An automobile accident at the junction of state route 78 and the Beardstown blacktop highway south of Chandlerville at 12:15 p.m. Thursday was reported to have been the first S-D (Safe Driving) Day mishap in this section of the state.

Two brothers, Robert and Tim Lacey of route one, Jacksonville, sustained minor injuries and were taken to Passavant Hospital where Tim Lacey was treated for cuts and bruises and then released. Robert Lacey was kept at the hospital for observation. His condition was reported as being "good" Thursday night.

A pick-up truck which the Lacey brothers were riding in and a car driven by Albert Rehbohl of East Passavant collided on the icy pavement at the junction of the two roads, damaging both vehicles to the extent of several hundred dollars. Rehbohl was not injured. The vehicles were towed to Chandlerville following the wreck.

State police in Havana and Jacksonville investigated the accident.

Tells Russ German Disunity Prevents Normal Relations

BONN, Germany (AP)—Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano told the Russians today that normal relations between West Germany and the Soviet Union are impossible so long as Moscow blocks the reunification of Germany.

In a government declaration delivered to the cheers of the Bundestag, Von Brentano firmly ruled out separate, bilateral negotiations between Bonn and Moscow on the East-West deadlock over the question of uniting his divided nation.

Von Brentano did not repudiate the agreement which Chancellor Konrad Adenauer made with the Soviets in Moscow in September to establish diplomatic recognition. But he said such relations are only "an event of technical importance for the time being."

Toastmasters Name John Pruitt Best Speaker Of Night

A speech entitled "How to Lick Your Biggest Competitor" last night won John Pruitt best speaker honors at the regular meeting of the Jacksonville Toastmasters' Club.

Fear, Pruitt told the group, is perhaps the greatest hindrance to salesmen. It often does a businessman more damage than his strongest competitor, he continued. Then Pruitt offered some suggestions on the conquest of this fear.

Opening the meeting, president Ralph Jones introduced George Delaney as toastmaster of the evening. Delaney called for impromptu speeches from John Hadden, Oliver McIlrath, Dr. L. K. Hallock and Dr. J. Allen Biggs.

Howard Brown, in a talk titled "Billions For Defense," told the group that unbalanced spending of federal money for munitions causes needless waste. He explained the heavy cost to the taxpayer of obsolescent military equipment. "A Good Credit Policy" was expounded by Lynden Heaton. Heaton's speech, the tenth in the basic training course, outlined the sound principles upon which credit may be based.

Speech evaluators were Dr. J. Allen Biggs, Dr. L. K. Hallock and Frank Smith.

CRICKET'S CHIRP

There is a definite relationship between a cricket's chirp and the prevailing temperature. The rate of chirp depends upon the temperature and the rapidity of the chirps is so affected by heat and cold that a formula has been devised for getting the temperature by this means.

The number of people entering U. S. mental hospitals rose from 85 per 100,000 in 1931 to 111 per 100,000 in 1951.

Quad Cities Milk Deliveries Resume As Strike Ends

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Milk production and deliveries appeared headed back to normal today after striking milk industry workers Wednesday night ratified a new contract ending their eight-day walkout against nine major dairies in the Quad Cities area.

The contract, a union spokesman said, provides an average wage increase of $15 to $20 a week. The spokesman said the contract, the first signed covering some 300 workers, was ratified by members of the AFL Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, Local 37, by a vote of 232 to 14.

After the vote, workers assigned to the midnight shift returned to their jobs.

The strike affected more than 200,000 consumers in Rock Island, Silvis, Moline, and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport and Bettendorf, Iowa. The dairies, which serve an estimated 95 per cent of the Quad Cities market, continued deliveries to hospitals and other institutions during the strike. Families with children also were able to buy milk direct from the dairies.

Elvin Hughes, president of the local, disclosed terms of the new contract. Some of the provisions included:

Beginning today workers will go on a 48-hour week, which will be reduced to a 40-hour week in June 1957. They receive an immediate hike of 16 cents an hour, bringing the average for skilled inside workers to $1.53 hourly. This will be increased to $2.15 hourly with the start of the 40-hour week.

The scale for unskilled, inside dairy workers will reach $1.95 hourly with the beginning of the 40-hour week.

For drivers handling retail routes, commissions will be hiked from 11 to 13.5 per cent during the first year of the contract and then to 14 per cent in the second year.

Wholesale drivers won raises from $202 to $275 with an increase in commissions from 2.5 per cent to 4 per cent in the first year and to 4.5 per cent in the second year.

Other terms provide for double time pay for work on Sundays and holidays; a union shop in Illinois; and in Iowa if and when union shops become legal in Iowa; employer-paid hospitalization at the rate of $2.25 a week per employee; time and a half pay for overtime after hours immediately, and time and a half after eight hours after June 1957.

EXPERIENCED MEN

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Maybe it's the bounce in this Rubber City. Whatever it is, many of the sturdy business veterans snuff retirement.

Paul W. Litchfield, at 80 still heads a large rubber company. He delights in squashing retirement rumors each birthday.

Dr. M. D. Alles, former city health director, was past 70 when he stepped aside in favor of a successor. Now he's busy with private practice.

Cyrus S. Eaton, 71, rises at 5:30 a.m. workdays. Only two years ago he won the chairmanship of a major railroad.

At 87, attorney Clyde Berry has "slowed down," but still reports to his office and handles cases. And there's realtor R. K. Crawford, 85, hard to see at times because his secretary reports he "just dashed out again to keep an appointment."

William F. O'Neil, 70, heads another big rubber firm.

Attorney Watson F. Slabaugh retired last year at 95.

"You'd be surprised just how valuable a man is with 70 years' experience," he said at that time.

SAVES HOEING

AGASSIZ, B. C. (AP) — Hoeing of weeds may be out of date. Potato plots at the experimental farm here, treated with chemical weed-killer and otherwise untended, yielded a better crop than plots that were hoed, said horticulturist Jack Freeman.

PREVIEW OF DESTRUCTION

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Several young boys were invited by an Army recruiter to step inside a Patton tank on display here. One of them accidentally released the brakes. The tank rolled down an incline and crashed into a parked automobile, destroying it.

AUTOMOTIVE EXPLOSION

SYLACAUGA, Ala. (AP)—L. H. Dillard dreamed he was on a river bank discharging dynamite. Boom! Boom! Boom!

The third boom knocked him out of bed and he picked himself up in the wrecked bedroom of his combination home and store which had been smashed by an automobile.

State Patrolman Bill Summerlin said William J. Goodwin went to sleep while driving down a steep hill. The car went down an embankment, hurdled a ditch and crashed into the Dillard house at a point about 200 yards from the highway.

WORMS INTO TROUBLE

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A flash flood put one merchant out of business, wiping out his entire stock.

Curley Burks appealed to the Red Cross for aid, and the agency tried to help him replace the lost merchandise.

Burks operates a worm ranch to supply fishermen with bait. He said the flood washed away 3,000 worms.

AMERICAN INDIANS

And for 1956 this great engine delivers 227 blazing horsepower with an ease and smoothness that must be experienced to be believed. For the "go" of the year, go Pontiac.

Let's say you have just logged an extra-long day's mileage in your '56 Pontiac. Your clock tells you it's time to stop for the night.

Then it comes to you. You don't want to stop! You just want to keep on and on, piloting this sweet, singing beauty wherever fancy points.

Guards Accused Of Charging Inmates 'Price' For Favors

NEW YORK (P)—Seven guards have been accused of running a bribery racket in city prison with a "fixed price" for favors to inmates ranging from 50 cents for a stroll in the corridor to $35 for a bottle of scotch.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said Wednesday night a "tip"—followed by painstaking police work—led to the arrests.

Hogan said privileges for a fee included the arranging of card and dice games, extra food, liquors, visiting from cell to cell and $85 whiskey and cold cuts party in a prison store room.

Booked early today on charges of taking illegal fees, a felony, and delivering contraband, a misdemeanor, were:

Angelo Ferraro, 34, Lorenzo Regester, 32, and Robert T. Meagle, 30, all of Brooklyn; John McKnight, 40, and Joseph K. Gavin, 31, Queens; and Walter Smith, 43, and James B. Henderson, 32, Manhattan.

Hogan told this story:

About a month ago a Brooklyn man being held in city prison on a larceny charge to word to Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver of the alleged peddling and bribery racket.

Patrolman Michael Lizzio and Policewoman Norma Trentalange, posing as the brother and fiancée of a prisoner, rented an apartment on West 72nd Street and got word to the guards they wanted favors for the inmate and had a lot of money to pay for them.

Twelve times since Nov. 1 transactions for illegal favors took place, and each time $50 in marked money was handed over. Hidden in a clothes closet of the apartment was another officer with an active tape recorder.

The police list of the guards' alleged price scale:

A steak sandwich $1; change to a more desirable cell, $40; a stroll in the corridor, 50 cents; a visit to another prisoner's cell, $1; delivery of money from the outside, $15; a quart of scotch, $35.

GETS RUSS DOLLS

ST. LOUIS (P)—Mrs. Rue Ann Hillmann wanted a pair of Russian dolls to round out her collection so she wrote Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov last July asking for two between 6 and 18 inches tall. Back came the dolls last week.

"Naturally they had to out do the rest," Mrs. Hillmann said Thursday. "Their dolls are 20 inches tall—bigger than any others in my collection."

DEFENDED BRITISH TROOPS

John Adams, who later became second U. S. president, anxious that justice should be done, served as the lawyer for the defense of the British soldiers who were arrested after the Boston massacre.

Over 4,500 Enter New Army Reserve In First 8 Weeks

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (P)—The Army has enlisted slightly over 4,500 six-month trainees in the first eight weeks of the new reserve program.

The figures were made public today by the Army in answer to an inquiry on progress of this phase of the latest of a long series of efforts to create a full-fledged reserve system.

These pre-draft age youths have volunteered for six months of active training, followed by 7½ years of reserve liability. Not all of them actually are entering training camps immediately. Many have been granted deferred status to allow them to complete high school and other studies.

The goal of the Defense Department is to have 95,000 trainees by next June 30, a beginning toward an eventual pool of 2½ million trained men who could be called to duty in another war.

Before the program began last Oct. 3, officials talked of getting 5,000 trainees to enlist each month. Officials of the National Security Training Commission, the group which is monitoring the program passed by the last Congress, conceded now, however, that the six-month training phase of the program is off to a "slower start than we had expected."

But both commission members and Army officials insist that it is too soon to judge the success of the program.

Chairman David Sarnoff of the commission thinks one thing that has retarded the program so far is failure of parents and the eligible youths to understand the choices and advantages in completing their stint of military training early.

But he also comments that if the program "doesn't get off the ground" after a trial, it will be a matter requiring changes by Congress. Congress had declined to operate the reserve training system through use of selective service methods.

GOING TO THE DOGS?

DALLAS (P)—In the past three weeks, Boots, a 4-year-old bulldog-terrier, has lugged a couple of cases of empty beer bottles home to his back yard.

"He isn't going to the dogs," says his master Jerry Waldrop, 16. "He was raised in a nondrinking home and he doesn't drink the stuff. He just comes home in the evenings with a beer bottle in his mouth."

DRIVER TRAINING BOOSTED

DETROIT (P)—To encourage its dealers to take part in high school driver training programs, General Motors allows them $125 for each new car lent for the purpose. GM says high school driver education "is one of the most promising phases of today's highway safety program."

Springfield Site For National TOYM Banquet

Two thousand people from all over the United States are expected to attend the annual TOYM (Ten Outstanding Young Men of America) banquet to be held Jan. 14 at Springfield. Details and plans were received Thursday by Bill Buchanan, secretary of the Jacksonville Jaycees. The Jacksonville Junior Chamber of Commerce is in the same central Illinois division as Springfield.

A number from here will attend the fifteen dollar a plate dinner to be served at 6:30 p.m. in the Illinois State Armory. The banquet is sponsored by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Springfield Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Buchanan states 15,000 entry forms have been mailed to Jaycee chapters and other groups throughout the nation. The top ten men, between the ages of 21 to 35, are to be selected from nominees by a panel of distinguished judges from professional, business and the industrial fields.

The two principal questions asked of nominees are: "What outstanding contribution did the nominee make to his work or profession?" and "What outstanding contribution did the nominee make to the general welfare of the people?"

Heading the list of notables who will be in attendance is Vice President Richard M. Nixon, a recipient of the award in 1947 while Congressman from California. Nixon will participate in the presentation of awards along with the Jaycee National President, Hugh McKenna, who visited in Jacksonville in October speaking before the local Jaycees and others.

An activities program for the two day meeting, Friday and Saturday Jan. 13 and 14, includes a fashion show and a Governor's Tea for the ladies on Friday afternoon and the dinner and President's Ball that evening. On Saturday morning a breakfast will kick off the day with several interesting events slated for visitors including a Lincoln Festival in the afternoon.

The TOYM banquet is Saturday evening at the State Armory. Award recipients in previous years include among others: Howard Hughes.

1938, Harold E. Stassen, 1939, William Saroyan, 1940, Leonard Bernstein, 1941, Henry Ford, the second, 1942, Lou Boudreau, 1943, Col. Francis Gabreski, 1951, Dr. R. M. Hedrick, 1952, Dr. L. T. Koritz, 1953, and Terry Brennan, 1954.

CAT REPAYS DEBT

CLIFTON FORGE, Va. (AP)—Miss Edith Michie, a high school teacher, loves the cat she picked up and nursed back to health. The cat, named Hoppie because an encounter with a train left it only three legs, pounced on a copperhead snake coiled to strike the teacher as she hung clothes on a line.

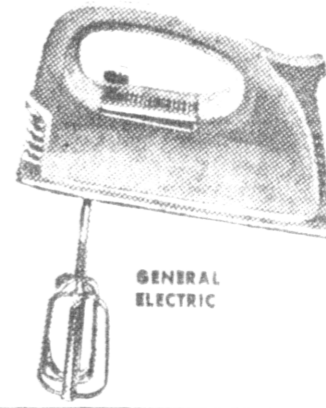

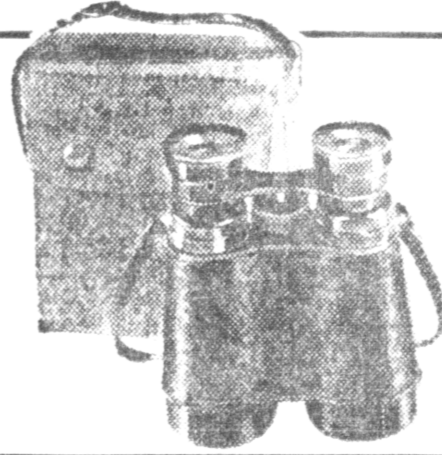

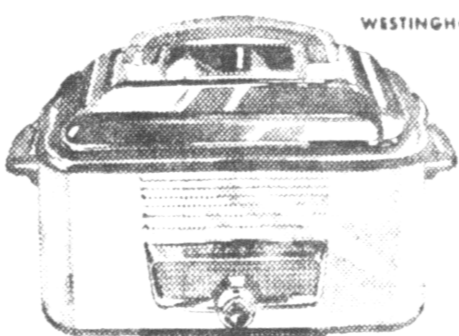

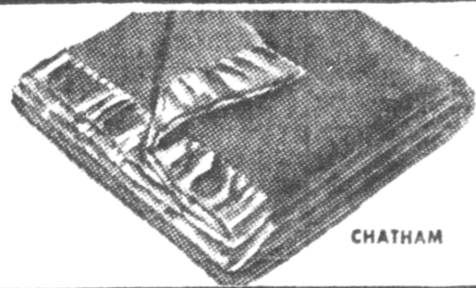

Hoppie has received a "well done" from the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. A cat food company sent one too.

ROOKIE COMES THROUGH

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Bill McCreary of the Providence Reds made his first two American Hockey League goals count. He scored the deciding marker in a 3-2 victory over Buffalo and three nights later got the clincher in a 5-3 triumph over Hershey.

FRUSTRATED COWBOYS
TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Two cowboy fans rustled some mounts and headed west but they had horse trouble and had made only a few miles when the police posse caught them on the outskirts of town.

The pair stole two horses from a ranch, one a lively black mare and the other a steady old sorrel. The mare bucked off the young wranglers so persistently that when the police caught them they both were riding the sorrel and using the black as a pack horse.

In their two packs were eight sticks of dynamite with fuse attachments, 125 rounds of pistol and rifle ammunition, one rusty rifle and two hunting knives.

The boys, 14 and 15, were turned over to juvenile authorities.

GOOD WILL METERS
DETROIT (AP)—All parking tickets in suburban Dearborn were paid by the Optimist Club for a week. Said a club spokesman: "It's a means of focusing attention to the service group's activities. Violators will be given an opportunity to reimburse the club if they wish."

MELON MONUMENT
DILEY, Tex. (AP)—Diley's biggest monument is a huge red watermelon mounted on a white, concrete pylon.

It commemorates a Diley area watermelon yield which has averaged 15 million pounds a year the past five years.
